Climate

A collage of agricultural images. At the top left is a field of green tobacco plants. To its right is a field of purple and red flowers with a mountain in the background. Below these are several images of corn: a field of green corn at sunset, a field of green corn in the foreground, a field of mature brown corn ready for harvest, and a close-up of green corn cobs. On the left side, there are images of a field with rows of small white flowers and a dirt path through a field of green plants. At the bottom right, there is a pile of harvested potatoes.
